

Award-winning Fiction Author Susan Page Davis to Speak at Christian Writers Conference

Susan Page Davis, acclaimed fiction author of Captive Trail, Maine Brides, and Love Finds You in Prince Edward Island, will be the featured speaker at the 2011 Maine Fellowship of Christian Writers Conference on Saturday, October 8, 2011. This year's theme is "His Words for Our World".

A native of central Maine, Susan Page Davis now lives in Kentucky where she continues to sharpen her quill. With more than thirty books in print she writes romantic suspense, historical romance, and mystery novels and has won many prestigious awards for her work. Davis credits her early years as a freelance journalist for The Morning Sentinel saying, "This experience was a great help in developing fictional characters and writing realistic scenes." Prior to her move, Davis was an active member of Maine Fellowship of Christian Writers and conference presenter. She is also a member and national conference instructor for American Christian Fiction Writers.

Davis will present keynote and interactive sessions as well as a fiction workshop. Three additional breakout workshops feature a variety of topics that will appeal to both published and unpublished writers. Jim Duran, editor of the Good News Connection, is among the team of several workshop presenters along with Christian romance author Ruth Axtell Morren, who will teach Writing a Winning Synopsis. An annual favorite, the "Live Writers Society", will provide an opportunity for conferees to share an excerpt of their writing.

The October 8th conference will be held from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at Faith Evangelical Free Church, 250 Kennedy Memorial Drive, Waterville, ME. The cost of registration is $45 ($55 after 9/15). You may contact info@mfcw.org or Susan Peaslee at (207) 549-3306. Details and printable brochures are available online at mfcw.org.

Award-winning Fiction Author Susan Page Davis to Speak at Christian Writers Conference

Susan Page Davis, acclaimed fiction author of Captive Trail, Maine Brides, and Love Finds You in Prince Edward Island, will be the featured speaker at the 2011 Maine Fellowship of Christian Writers Conference on Saturday, October 8, 2011. This year's theme is "His Words for Our World".

A native of central Maine, Susan Page Davis now lives in Kentucky where she continues to sharpen her quill. With more than thirty books in print she writes romantic suspense, historical romance, and mystery novels and has won many prestigious awards for her work. Davis credits her early years as a freelance journalist for The Morning Sentinel saying, "This experience was a great help in developing fictional characters and writing realistic scenes." Prior to her move, Davis was an active member of Maine Fellowship of Christian Writers and conference presenter. She is also a member and national conference instructor for American Christian Fiction Writers.

Davis will present keynote and interactive sessions as well as a fiction workshop. Three additional breakout workshops feature a variety of topics that will appeal to both published and unpublished writers. Jim Duran, editor of the Good News Connection, is among the team of several workshop presenters along with Christian romance author Ruth Axtell Morren, who will teach Writing a Winning Synopsis. An annual favorite, the "Live Writers Society", will provide an opportunity for conferees to share an excerpt of their writing.

The October 8th conference will be held from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at Faith Evangelical Free Church, 250 Kennedy Memorial Drive, Waterville, ME. The cost of registration is $45 ($55 after 9/15). You may contact info@mfcw.org or Susan Peaslee at (207) 549-3306. Details and printable brochures are available online at mfcw.org.